Dear Follower of Jesus,

Please consider donating to Praxis Advocates, to keep Muslim transformation to Christ going and growing. Together we can help more and more people think about Muslims the way God does and love them like Jesus.

Those of you who have sent extra finances for the Iranian Bibles project to be matched 3x by a Bible Gateway individual have the good news that those monies are on the way and purchasing Iranian/Farsi Bibles for the explosion of Christian growth among God's fastest growing Christians in the whole world.

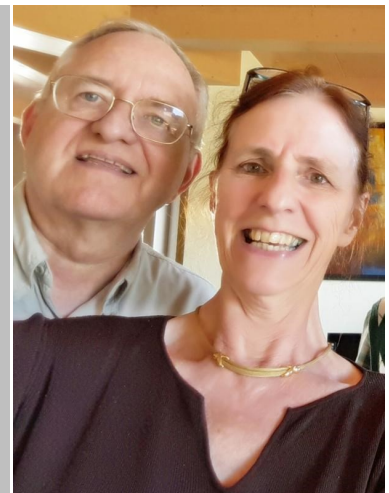

Many thanks to the outpouring of finances for Iranian Bibles. Your giving has been accurately transmitted to the Bibles for Iranians project. Thousands of Bibles have your hand and God's on this project. I've never seen anything like it.

Please note below that the Colorado address has the name of Stephen Heckman added to the address, since with the change of postmen, Praxis Advocates needs to have the house names under Praxis Advocates as well as Stephen Heckman, who is a brilliant and honest at check forwarding under Praxis Advocates. We have had a couple of checks sent back to a donor's bank. This will solve that problem with postal delivery regardless whether a new postal person delivers the mail.

Thank you, each supporter, who has made my travels as a spiritual father possible by your financial generosity. Each month is a miracle to see support from our dearly committed donor friends, without which we could not minister for one single month. Really.

God's unfailing love,

Don and Evey

A pretty important piece of information we wanted to share with you. North African convert churches and former Muslim gatherings in France have, for the most part, leaders who lead their churches often into division and separation into angry splits.

These leaders are saved, certainly, but mostly untrained in Bible and Christ character building.

For this reason, I am starting already this fall an online PhD course from Liberty University in Virginia. It is a PhD in Bible Exposition and Expository studies. I have enough finances for this for this year, loans and grants. Think of me on August 23rd.

I have been thoroughly vetted and accepted into the degree program with a flurry of studies in Bible linguistics and outstanding research into the Word by Godly professors. All books are free, since it is part of the School of Theology, offering the sole program with free (online?) books and assignments. But Western churches need Bible training too. Read on.

Often missions/miracles and academics are pitted against each other. Thus, conversions are prized above Biblical obedience to Christ and His life enumerated in both the OT and the NT, of course.

We have another pernicious challenge. In our area, and in the West, where we recruit people for missions, the NAR has entered into many churches. It is the New Apostolic Reformation, which creates powerful “apostles” who are less missions inclined and more bishop/dominating in their approach.

This seriously squelches missions. So, we have challenges BOTH on the converted Muslim front and the few NAR groups that you need to research and pray about very seriously. Once we planted our biggest church in Paris. Only 70, but big for France.

The then called “Toronto Blessing,” when it came to France, angered some of our church members because they couldn’t swoon as much in our church as in other churches. It became another “down the drain” attack on outreach and missions. We need to be vigilant and not let down our guard against the lure of miracles that sometimes supersedes the Gospel that Paul preached of Christ crucified, though we certainly believe in miracles.

That PhD is also aimed at laying more foundations that are Bible based in Western churches.

Forgive me for being so candid and sharing so intimately. Remember to relook at the Praxis Advocates at the bottom of this epistle, and include Stephen Heckman and you are good to go. You are always good to go in Christ and Him crucified.
