IN THE LOOP, HECKMAN NEWS, PRAYER, IDEAS: Share Freely

Mom and Joy, one of her 8 grandies had an afternoon date: to make an Easter diorama. This work of a 4 year old started outside, picking up rocks, moss, flowers, and, yes, Playmobile figures. This work of Joy ended up in our church, then the center piece at our family meal with Esther, Andrew, Jojo, Joy and Nano.

Note far left the joy and surprise of Mary, hands raised at the empty tomb. Note above the hieroglyphics written by Joy, "He is Risen." Peter and John, right hand missing, came running along the broken clay pot path. Joy called it the Resurrection Garden. Three crosses have a sign on the central one, "Forgiven."

Monday, Esther wanted this Resurrection Garden over to her home for her invited guests. The tomb was empty, guaranteed by Joy's rolled up paper pointer that kept poking into the little pot, with only two folded white cloths left behind.

So Easter is such that we just had to share.
